I strive to assist my clients by listening to and understanding their problems, providing honest guidance and obtaining resolutions that justice requires. Before joining the Mika Meyers team, I spent several years in public service as an attorney for the City of Detroit. I have a persistent interest in learning and gaining new experiences, which led me to move to Manistee, where I continue to practice municipal law for various local government units, while also expanding my practice into other areas of law.

In my spare time, I enjoy traveling, volunteering, and learning more about the world by meeting and sharing experiences with people of different backgrounds.
