Over forty years of law practice has taught me that every project is unique. It's gratifying when I can use my expertise to solve a challenge and smooth the required legal procedures for a client, including the many municipal clients I've come alongside for a successful public infrastructure project.

Several years ago, I retired by transitioning to Of Counsel status with the Firm and moved to northern Florida. While still assisting the Firm, I enjoy fishing, walking the beach, reading, traveling, a good game of bocce ball or dominoes, the general pursuit of joy with friends and family, and cultivating my appreciation for the beauty and culture of the Florida panhandle.
